

California will soon provide ethnic studies classes for all high schoolers. Here's why.

California will soon provide ethnic studies classes for all high schoolers. Here's why.

Grace Hwang Lynch, Los Angeles Daily News

December 07, 2016

"A study released earlier this year by Stanford University shows that ethnic studies classes have many long-term benefits for students, including fewer absences, higher grades and even better graduation rates. Those improvements were especially pronounced among boys and Hispanic students. San Francisco Unified intentionally made ethnic studies a freshman course with the aim of impacting students early, and keeping them in school."

Article

[READ ARTICLE
HERE](#)

Related Materials

- NEWS: Can separate be equal? SF Chronicle
- NEWS: The Power of a Good Idea: How San Francisco is Building a PreK-3rd Grade Bridge
- NEWS: Stanford teams up with San Francisco schools to prepare math teacher-leaders
- New Stanford Program Texts Parents to Help Teach Their Kindergartners to Read
- NEWS: Memorizers are the lowest achievers and other Common Core math surprises
- NEWS: How the CORE districts are designing new measures of school quality
- NEWS: How do you start, maintain, and sustain a research-practice partnership?
- NEWS: Teachers are about to get the data they need to educate your kids, experts say
- NEWS - Ethnic studies classes in S.F. surprisingly successful
- NEWS - The Case for Ethnic Studies in All Schools So Students Can Excel